

BevCap Management, LLC Hosts 6th Annual Safety Summit

BevCap Management, LLC hosted its 6th Annual Safety Summit at the Boardwalk Inn & Resort at Walt Disney World in Orlando, Florida on March 4-6, 2013. Current BevCap Management clients and members of The National Beer Wholesalers Association were invited to attend the summit, which focused on loss control, risk control, and overall safety. Over 90 attendees traveled from all over the country from as far away as California and as close as Florida with many states in between represented.

Attendees heard from 16 industry experts on a wide variety of topics ranging from Healthcare Reform to OSHA Safety Requirements, as well as Active Shooter and Wellness Programs.

One of the featured speakers was Stu Levine with Disney Institute. Mr. Levine shared Disney's approach to selecting, training and engaging the best employees and how one might apply that approach in their own organization. As a little break from all the safety presentations, Ron White, a memory expert, provided a fascinating and entertaining program over lunch

"This was a great conference. There was a tremendous amount of information! I'm so glad I attended!"

"I thought this was one of the best conferences I have ever attended."

"The content was all good, well presented and interesting."

"We have had three meetings [since we have returned] to discuss what we can implement."

"The hotel was wonderful! Food was good and entertainment on Monday night was amazing!"

Other highlights include Theresa Gallion, Partner with Fisher & Phillips, LLP, who provided a detailed update on the Employment Law changes, and Pat Stark, with the USF OSHA Consulting group. Eric Clay with Walt Disney Swan and Dolphin Resort joined the Summit again this year and provided a valuable outline of steps to take if you have an Active Shooter on site.
